THE CALL YOUR OWN SHOP CHALLENGE · PRINTABLE SCORECARD

TONIGHT, CALL YOUR OWN SHOP.

After closing, call your main number from your cell like a new customer with a real problem. Listen all the way through, hang up, then tick what happened. Takes about two minutes.

Date: _____ Time called: _____ Number called: _____

1 What happened when you called?

☐ A person or receptionist answered	2 pts
☐ Voicemail or a recorded message	1 pt
☐ It rang out, was busy, or the mailbox was full	0 pts	POINTS

2 Did the greeting say your shop's name and when you're open next?

☐ Both	2 pts
☐ Only one of them	1 pt
☐ Neither, or there was no greeting	0 pts	POINTS

3 Could a caller leave their name, number, and what they need?

☐ Yes, easily	2 pts
☐ Sort of: cut off, unclear, or rushed	1 pt
☐ No	0 pts	POINTS

4 Did it tell the caller when they'd hear back?

☐ Yes, a clear time	2 pts
☐ Vaguely ("as soon as possible")	1 pt
☐ No	0 pts	POINTS

5 Gut check: as a new customer, would you wait for the callback?

☐ Yes	2 pts
☐ Maybe	1 pt
☐ No, I'd call the next shop	0 pts	POINTS

YOUR TOTAL _____ /10

9–10	After hours, your phone holds up. Check again in a month.
5–8	A few leaks. Start with any question that scored 0 or 1.
0–4	Callers hit a wall. A clear greeting and a working mailbox are free fixes.

One thing I'll fix this week: _____

A self-check of one call on one night. It isn't a rating, a ranking, or a promise about your business.

Curious how an AI receptionist answers?
Call Bella, the Dojo Receptionist demo line.
She says she's an AI. Never quotes prices, diagnoses, or takes payment.

541-833-0643