DOJO RECEPTIONIST

7-Day Missed Call Log

Shop: _____

Week of: _____

One mark for every call nobody picked up. One week. Then do the math on page 2.

HOW TO USE IT

- Every time the phone rings and nobody answers, make one tally mark in that day and time block.
- Count rings you missed, hang-ups, and voicemails. Check your phone's missed-call list at the end of each day.
- Skip spam and robocalls. Tape this page near the phone or on the truck dash.

Which calls mattered, and what the week could be worth, by your own numbers.

CALLBACK NOTES

Jot down the missed calls you could identify. Did you reach them in time?

Day / time	Name or number	Voicemail?	Called back?	Got the job?	Notes
		Y / N	Y / N	Y / N
		Y / N	Y / N	Y / N
		Y / N	Y / N	Y / N

YOUR WEEK, BY THE NUMBERS

Your numbers only. This is an estimate, not a promise.

A Missed calls this week (from page 1) _____

B Of those, about what share would have booked if you'd answered? _____ %

C Your average job value $ _____

D Estimated work missed this week: A × B × C $ _____

E Estimated per month: D × 4.33 (weeks in a month) $ _____

Example of the math only, with made-up numbers: 8 missed calls × 25% × $300 = $600 for the week. Use your own numbers. If many missed callers are existing customers or wrong numbers, use a lower share in B.
